Official Organ County Commissioners.
THURSDAY, JULY 10, 1902

Congress has adjourned. Let us sing the doxology.

General Amnesty will attempt the pacification of the Philippines.

A vote for Lamar means a vote for the supremacy of the people.

Voter, you will make no mistake if you vote ne: Tuesday for William B. Lamar to represent this district in Congress.

$800,000,000 appropriated during the first session, is the record of the 57th congress. What will they do at the second session?

"This is the last week before the battle of ballots. Next Tuesday will tell the tale, and then we will know who are to be our officers.

A warrant was drawn at the Treasury Department in Washington on last Wednesday in favor of the State of Florida for the sum of $681,647.02 in settlement of the Indian war claims.

We do not advise that you go early to the polls next Tuesday and vote often but we do suggest that you go in time to cast your own vote and as many more as you can influence for William B. Lamar.

Tom and Tel Stockton, brothers, both of whom aspire to represent Duval county in the State Senate, are just now engaged in writing sarcastic and questioning letters to each other which are published in the daily press of that city.

Editor Appleyard in last week's Index gave the lie direct to his brethren of the Citizen-Reporter. Too bad, boys. Why can't you live together in peace and harmony? Lake City would be better off if you would cease wrangling.

Madison will keep open house next Saturday. There will be plenty to eat and gallons of ice water to drink for the great crowd which is expected here that day. Come to the barbecue and hear your next Congressman, William B. Lamar, speak.

The trustees of Madison county's bonds have called in another batch of $700 for payment, which reduces the county's bonded indebtedness to $19,600. In the course of time—and we think it will not be long, either—this indebtedness will pass away altogether.

Editor McCreary is making a strong fight for the Senatorship in Alachua county. He has ably represented that county in the State Senate for a term or two and the chances are that the people will show their appreciation of his services by returning him to Tallahassee. Here's hoping, brother Mc.

A LAST WORD.
Before another issue of this paper shall greet its readers the battle of ballots will have been fought and the victors in the great political game will be known. One word more to the voters of Madison county. Remember, when you go to the polls on next Tuesday, that you have a duty to perform to yourself, your State and your country. Exercise your own sound judgment and be not led astray by the specious argument and fulsome flattery of him who would seek to divert your vote from its proper channel—from the candidate of your own deliberate choice.

The game of politics is intricate, and many are the ways and varied the methods by which the scheming politician seeks to gain votes for his candidate. Be not deceived. Study the situation carefully for yourself. Act upon your own judgment and follow the dictates of your own conscience. Vote for that man who, to your mind, is best fitted for the office which he seeks, whose public career has not been antagonistic to the masses and favorable to the classes. For him who has nothing to explain but whose record is clear, open and without a shadow of favoritism upon it. In this way only can the people remain supreme. Vote for the candidate who will represent you. Who will fight your battles against the powers which are making such herculean efforts to dominate the politics of the country. Vote for William B. Lamar.

A Card.
To the voters of Madison county—Gentlemen:
You see by announcement in both the county papers that I am a candidate for the office of County Commissioner. The farmer living in the country, and who devotes his time to his business, is much isolated and does not have the opportunities that people do who live at the business centers to make close acquaintances and exchange views with everybody. Besides, the time accorded for canvassing is so short it is impossible for an aspirant for office to see everyone, so if I do not happen to meet up with you during the canvass do not think it is because I do not wish to. I am fully aware of the importance of the position I seek, and have every faith in my ability to fill it creditably, and if elected will surely do all I know for the best interests of the county. I have been doing business for myself for ten years, have not made a failure during the time, have met every obligation ever made and have never in my life discounted my own paper. If the voters of the county think they would like to give me a trial I will certainly appreciate your support on July 15th.

Very respectfully,
F. J. JEFFCOAT.
Near Greenville, Fla.
July 8th, 1902.

The weather is hot, but it is nothing compared with the fervid congressional condition out in the third. They are having a sizzling political time over there.—Leesburg Commercial. Right you are, brother, but next Tuesday promises a very cold wave to one or two of the candidates most interested.

John M. Bush, an old and respected citizen of Tampa, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head, using a revolver. The bullet entered the right temple and passed out the other side of the head. He lived an hour and a half, and died in great agony. Eight years ago he came to Tampa from Apalachicola, where he had been prominent in business and politics. He opened an immense mercantile establishment here, but his son, who was manager of the business, died, and the business went down, an assignment following. It is thought brooding over the misfortunes deranged his mind. He shot himself in a small outhouse in the rear of his residence, and his aged wife was the first to reach him.

In Memoriam.
A member of the Elizabeth Harris Chapter, U. D. C., desires to pay a feeble tribute to the memory of Mr. M. H. Waring, a gallant Confederate soldier, who answered the last roll call on the morning of the 27th ult., and joined the innumerable throng of his comrades who had preceded him to the great encampment above.

It is sincerely regretted that unavoidable delay prevented the Daughters of the Confederacy from conferring upon his loyal heart the cross of honor. His name was among the first that was suggested to the chapter as being worthy of the honor of the cross.

Mr. Waring served the South faithfully. He marched through the burning sands of Florida, through the snow of Kentucky, poorly clad, often without food, and during those four years of danger and suffering no word of complaint fell from his lips. He belonged to Company G., 3rd Florida Regiment, Finley's brigade, Bates' division, Army of the West. He was a great admirer of Gen. Johnstone and under his command participated in many of the battles that were fought in Georgia, Tennessee and Kentucky. A serious wound disabled him for life.

The South may not be able to erect monuments to her valiant soldiers but we can engrave their names and heroism on our hearts and on the hearts of each one of the rising generation around us. Honor to Howell Waring's name. Peace to his ashes.

"His glory shall not be forgot
While fame her record keeps,
Or memory points the hallowed spot
Where valor proudly sleeps."
D. C.

Often the over-taxed organs of digestion cry out for help by Dyspepsia's pains, Nausea, Dizziness, Headaches, liver complaints, bowel disorders. Such troubles call for prompt use of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are gentle, thorough and guaranteed to cure. 25c. at B. F. Moseley's drug store.

We would esteem it a favor upon the part of anyone who will take a moment to telephone us any news items. Have you friends visiting you, or is some member of your family leaving for a visit to other places? Let us know about it. It is just simply impossible for an editor to get every item of news which is happening. We want to give all the news and if you will help us we can do it. When you learn anything which is a matter of news oblige us by stepping to your phone and ringing up our's—No. 76—and then tell us what you know.

When a man says life is not worth living he generally tells the truth, provided it is his own life he has reference to.

A crank is always trying to understand something that he can't prove or prove something that he can't understand.

A girl should choose a young man for a husband with a good past record, with a brilliant future before him, but most girls prefer one with a present—and the more expensive it is the more she is interested in him.

Other members of the family have used it and every case has been a perfect success."
